JUNE 2020

From the Director's Desk

We are in unprecedented times. Having to close our doors and work through the changes in our programs has been a difficult but doable task. We continue to adjust, adapt and connect people to services every day. We miss interacting with our seniors face to face. So we outreach to them by phone, Facebook and by mail. We miss our Project FRIENDS participants and the energy they bring into our building and stay connected to them each week.

With these losses we also have had some important gains.

Coventry's people are kind, caring and compassionate towards their neighbors in need.

We have had the good fortune of living in this community where we look after one another.

Donations of food, monetary donations to our food bank, volunteering, and sewing cloth masks for our Meals on Wheels drivers has been very positive.

These volunteers have delivered not only food but connection and kindness to our most "at-risk seniors". This is such a blessing, and I cannot thank them enough. Their good works in conjunction with our competent staff have helped us to feed many families here in town.

Getting folks to the services they need is what we do best.

Connecting the disconnected and supporting people through difficult times is what makes Coventry so great.

Coventry is a resilient community. Resiliency is the capacity to recover quickly from difficulties; showing toughness.

As we negotiate the "new normal" I have a view from my role as Director of Human Services a Coventry of strength, connectedness and a place where neighbors help one another through difficult times.

Thank You For All You Do!

Workplace Fact Sheet

FOR RHODE ISLAND EMPLOYEES

If you have been impacted by Coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) and are quarantined and unable to work, or your workplace has been temporarily closed, please review the following information about assistance available through State programs. The Department of Labor and Training (DLT) will do all that we can to ensure impacted Rhode Islanders receive the benefits for which they are eligible.

If you are unable to work, but your place of business remains open, you may be eligible for Temporary Disability Insurance (TDI).

- To apply for TDI, please visit <https://dltweb.dlt.ri.gov/TDIReserve/Home>.
- Be sure to clearly indicate on your application that you have been impacted by COVID-19.
- Benefits may be available for you to care for yourself or a family member that has been impacted through Temporary Caregiver Insurance (TCI).
- For more information about TDI please visit <http://www.dlt.ri.gov/tdi/tdifaqs.htm>.
- For COVID-19 related claims, DLT will waive the seven-day minimum amount of time that claimants must be out of work to qualify for TDI/TCI benefits.
- For individuals under quarantine, DLT will waive the required medical certification, and instead will allow them to temporarily qualify via self-attestation that they were under quarantine due to COVID-19.

If you are out of work and are not being compensated, you may be eligible for Unemployment Insurance (UI).

- If your place of business closes, or you are directed by your employer to remain home, you may be eligible for unemployment insurance (UI).
- To apply for UI, please visit <http://www.dlt.ri.gov/ui/fileclaim2.htm>.
- Please be sure to indicate that your claim is a result of COVID-19.
- DLT will waive the seven-day waiting period for UI claims related to COVID-19.

Additional Resources:

- Most Rhode Island private sector workers are eligible for earned sick and safe leave. The benefits provided by this leave enable employees to take time off from work to care for themselves or family members that have been affected by COVID-19.

- Based on the size of your employer, earned leave may be paid or unpaid. For information about earned sick leave please visit <http://www.dlt.ri.gov/ls/pdfs/HSPWFactsheet.pdf>.
- Please check with your employer regarding their sick leave policies, the amount of time that you may have earned and may be available for use, and details about how to use this benefit.
- Some Rhode Island workers are covered by the Rhode Island Parental and Family Medical Leave Act and/or the Federal Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA). Eligible employees may be able to take job-protected leave under this act to care for themselves or a family member that has been impacted by COVID-19. For information about FMLA please visit: <https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/fmla>.

Some things you can do to support yourself:

- Take breaks from watching, reading, or listening to news stories, including social media. Hearing about the pandemic repeatedly can be upsetting.
- Take care of your body. Take deep breaths, stretch, or meditate. Try to eat healthy, well-balanced meals, exercise regularly, get plenty of sleep, and avoid alcohol and drugs.
- Make time to unwind and chill. Try other activities you enjoy.
- Connect with others. Talk with people you trust about your concerns and how you are feeling.
- Call your healthcare provider if stress gets in the way of your daily activities for several days in a row.
- Sharing the facts about COVID-19 and understanding the actual risks can make an outbreak less stressful for all.
- When you share accurate information about COVID-19 you can help make people feel less stressed.
- Learn more about taking care of your emotional health from the CDC or check out SAMHSA's Taking Care of Your Behavioral Health During an Infectious Disease Outbreak

HOPE AND RECOVERY

For Parents: Children and teens react on what they see from the adults around them. When parents and caregivers deal with the COVID-19 calmly and confidently, they can provide the best support for their children. Parents can be more reassuring to others around them, especially children, if they are better prepared.

There are many ways you can support your child:

- Take time to talk with your child or teen about the outbreak. Answer questions and share facts in a way that your child or teen can understand. Also, check out Talking with Children: Tips for Caregivers, Parents and Teachers During Infectious Disease Outbreaks from SAMHSA.
- Reassure your child or teen that they are safe. Let them know it is ok if they feel upset. Share with them how you deal with your own stress so that they can learn how to cope from you.
- Limit your family's exposure to news coverage, including social media. Children may misinterpret what they hear and can be frightened about something they do not understand.
- Try to keep up with regular routines. If schools are closed, create a schedule for learning, just relaxing or fun activities.
- Be a role model. Take breaks, get plenty of sleep, exercise, and eat well. Connect with your friends and family members.

Activity Ideas:

Start with Meditation. Headspace is a good app that has kid-friendly content and is the ideal mindful way to start the day.

Learn a language together. Yes, there will be school lessons, but why not take on a family fun project. The Duolingo app is one to try. Babbel is offering students three months free access.

Do something crafty each day. Could be just 10 minutes of coloring or something more ambitious. You can also get craft boxes mailed to you. There are a lot out there, here are just a few: Ann Williams Cratejoy SmartArt

Recipe challenge. Let your kids search online and pick a recipe each day. You might be limited on ingredients so start your search with what you have on hand.

Check out Taste of Home.

Keep in Touch. Since it's unlikely you will be making trips to see the grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins or close friends, have your kids start writing letters. Be creative, stay in touch !
